

International Day of Action in Solidarity with the People of Oaxaca !

What started out as a teachers strike nearly six months ago in the city of Oaxaca in southern Mexico has transformed itself into a full blown rebellion against neo-liberal economics and capitalist domination.

Hundreds of thousands of people have taken to the streets and thousands of barricades have been set up by popular assemblies demanding autonomy and the resignation of the governor of the state.

The federal government and paramilitary forces have attacked and invaded the city of Oaxaca in hopes of defeating the uprising, but the people of Oaxaca have fought back and won several of the battles.

Already dozens of people (including American journalist Brad Will) have been murdered or been kidnapped by government thugs, and federal troops are massing inside and around the city of Oaxaca to try to defeat this rebellion.

Mexican and international media have been silent about the massacres already committed by state forces. However, solidarity actions inside and outside of Mexico will not only show the people of Oaxaca that they are not alone, but also that we will hold the Mexican government responsible for the bloodshed.

Solidarity is our greatest weapon !
